

B2

What are some adverbs commonly used in cooking?

Answer: _____

What adverb can be used to describe the way something is cooked?

Answer: _____

What adverb can be used to describe the taste of food?

Answer: _____

Give an adverb that describes how something is seasoned.

Answer: _____

What adverb can be used to describe the texture of food?

Answer: _____

What adverb can be used to describe the heat of cooking?

Answer: _____

How can you describe the speed at which something is cooked?

Answer: _____

What adverb can be used to describe the size of food pieces in a recipe?

Answer: _____

What adverb can be used to describe the appearance of food?

Answer: _____

What adverb can be used to describe the consistency of food?

Answer: _____

Answers

What are some adverbs commonly used in cooking?

Answer: quickly, slowly, carefully, evenly, lightly

What adverb can be used to describe the way something is cooked?

Answer: baked, fried, grilled, sautéed

What adverb can be used to describe the taste of food?

Answer: deliciously, tastefully, sweetly, richly

Give an adverb that describes how something is seasoned.

Answer: generously, mildly, lightly, thoroughly

What adverb can be used to describe the texture of food?

Answer: creamy, crunchy, tenderly, chewy

What adverb can be used to describe the heat of cooking?

Answer: simmering, boiling, searing, roasting

How can you describe the speed at which something is cooked?

Answer: rapidly, gently, steadily, gradually

What adverb can be used to describe the size of food pieces in a recipe?

Answer: finely, coarsely, thinly, roughly

What adverb can be used to describe the appearance of food?

Answer: beautifully, appetizingly, elegantly, attractively

What adverb can be used to describe the consistency of food?

Answer: smoothly, lumpy, thickly, runny